Thought.

Thinking cannot be clear till it has had expression. We must write, or speak, or act our thoughts, or they will remain in a half-torpid form. Our feelings must have expression, or they will be as clouds which, till they develop in rain, will never bring up fruit or flower. So it is with all the inward feeling; expression gives them development. Thought is the blossom; language the opening bud; action the fruit behind it.—H. W. Beecher.

Treatment of Walls.

If a molding is liked from which to hang the pictures that do so much to make our rooms homelike, the best height for the molding is in line with the top of the doors. The modern idea seems to be to bring the window woodwork to the floor by using a paneling beneath the sill, and to carry the tops of doors and windows to a fixed line—the molding line. Thus the walls are divided into rectangular spaces, and the decorative effect of a good paper is enhanced. A plain paper has the dignity of a panel when so used.

Why the Rainbow is Round.

The rainbow is round, partly because the way in which light rays come from the sun makes it round, and partly, perhaps, because the little drops of water it shows through are themselves round. The rainbow really should be a full circle, but we can see only one bow-shaped half of it which gives it its name, rainbow.—From Boys' and Girls' Ask-at-Home Questions, by Marian E. Bailey.

World's Oldest Flower.

The chrysanthemum is the oldest cultivated flower in the world, and, though Japan's national emblem, was first developed in China. Confucius, who lived approximately 500 years B. C., mentioned it in his writings, and antique Chinese pottery in the British museum is decorated with conventional designs of the same flower.

Forethought.

Willis—"They say Doctor Bump is very quick to send a bill." Gillis—"Quick! He is premature. I happened to mention to him this morning that I am going to a bachelor supper tonight." Willis—"Yes?" Gillis—"And this afternoon I received a bill for tomorrow morning's services."—Judge.

To Clean Marble.

To clean marble take two parts of common soda, one part of pumice stone and one part of finely powdered salt. Sift the mixture through a fine sieve and mix it with water, then rub it well all over the marble and the stains will be removed. Rub the marble over with salt and water. Wash off and wipe dry.

Reason for Old Jokes.

"Why are there so many old jokes on the stage?" "Oh, they go good. That is due to the feeling of superiority produced by the fact that you know the answer, while the actor gink who is being told the joke apparently does not."—Kansas City Journal.

The Rabbit Scored.

A cottager and his wife endeavored to capture a wild rabbit by holding a net along the end of their garden, which borders a deep canal. Making a final dash, the rabbit ran toward the woman and tripped her, causing her to overbalance and fall into the canal. Her husband dived to her rescue, and but for the timely assistance of two men both would have been drowned.—London Observer.

Worth Remembering.

The world would be both better and brighter if we would dwell on the duty of happiness as well as the happiness of duty.—Sir John Lubbock.

But They Will Do It.

"If people never talked about things they don't understand," said Uncle Eben, "a heap o' folks 'ud never give as fur as bein' a candidate for office."
